OBITUARY.

SOPHIA F. MATTERN.

The remains of Sophia F., wife of L. W. Mattern, were interred Monday in Lower Providence Presbyterian cemetery. Mrs. Mattern, after a brief illness, died at her home on Main street, West Point, Pa., last Thursday. Mrs. Mattern's death came as a great shock to the community, where she has resided for almost 40 years and where she was beloved by all. She was the daughter of David and Sophia Trucksess, of Fairview Village, and the greater part of her life she took an active part in community work, and at the time of her death she was an active member of Grace Reformed church of West Point. The deceased is survived by her husband, who for years conducted a coal and feed business at the above place, and the following children, all residing at home: Bessie, Harry and Myrtle. One sister and three brothers also survive. They are: Mrs. Eliza Keeler, of Philadelphia; George and Andrew of Fairview Village, and David Trucksess, of Norristown.

Rev. Alex. K. Smith, pastor of Prospectville M. E. church, will take for his topic, "Judgment," on next Sunday morning. The following Sunday his topic will be "Death, What Is It?"

Mrs. Lewis Huber was removed to the Chestnut Hill hospital last week.

NORTH WALES.

The new industry, the National Health Food Co., is ready to supply its new cereal food, which is on sale at our groceries.

Miss Belle Strite, who has for a number of years conducted a millinery store on East Walnut street, is closing up her business on acount of failing health and will go to Missouri to live with her mother and brother, who have a large farm in that state.

Miss Aggie Kern has taken the ladies' hair dressing department of the Women's exchange on South Main street, formerly conducted by Miss Ashford, who will retire from the business. Miss Kern is now located on North Main street from which place she will move to her new location.

The interior of the remodeled building of the First National Bank is now occupied in full by the officials and affords more room for the largely increasing business and also makes a fine appearance, affording also more accomodations to the public in the lobby.

Our town was shocked to hear the announcement that one of our progressive business men, Frederick Fink, had suddenly died of apoplexy on Thursday evening. He was alone at the time, his wife having gone to the basement to look after the heater. On he return she found him prostrate on the floor. The family physician was summoned who pronounced him dead. Mr. Fink came here a number of years ago from the city and located on the south side of the street. Later he purchased the property across the street where he has been conducting a large confectionery and ice cream business. His funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon. Interment was made at the Westminster Presbyterian cemtery Philadelphia. He is survived by his widow, one son, John, and two daughters living at home one of whom is the wife of George Kleinman, a government electrical student in Philadelphia.

Miss Mabel Mattern's School of music, in the Rorer building, has been closed for several days on account of her mother's death at West Point, with whom she resided.

Masons have started on the erection of the new apartment house on South Second street for E. A. Perry.

A serious and almost fatal accident occurred on Thursday morning to our veteran townsman, James Christman, employed as a delivery salesman with A. K. Shearer's Sons in their lumber yards. While assisting in piling some lumber in a shed adjoining the wagon house a girder in the middle of the apartment over the wagon shed suddenly broke in the middle from the weight of the lumber. The lumber formed a trough in which Mr. Cristman was caught as he was precipitated from the pile he was placing. Assistance was promptly at hand and with difficulty he was taken out and conveyed to his home. It was a miracle that he was not instantly killed. His injuries were found to be a compound fracture of a limb and numerous contusions of the body. Theaged man is suffering much pain but resting as easy as can be expected.

At a special meeting of town council last week arrangements were made to insure the new fire apparatus both against fire and accident.

There has been much complaint the past week among our gas consumers the house users some days being unable to make their breakfast from the lack and poor quality of the fluid.

Katie Klinesmith, late of East Greenville, disposes of an estate valued at $1800 which she gives to the person or persons who nursed her in her last illness. Richard Reese is named as executor.

Whitpain Women Organize.

At a meeting held in Firemen's hall Centre Square, Feb. 11th, the women of Whitpain township, under Mrs. T. Duncan Just, organized a township league for the purpose of promoting the objects of "The Penn. League of Women Voters." Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather there was a fine attendance, and the following officers were elected: Chairman Miss Benson Dunham; secretary, Mrs. H. H. Tippin; treasurer, Mrs. J. Howard Breed. After the election of officers Mrs. T. Duncan Just, who is county chairman of election laws and methods addressed the meeting, speaking at length on the objects of the league, election laws and local ordinances. She was followed with deep interest by all present. The next meeting of the league will be held in Whitpain high school, Mar. 24th, at 2.30 P. M.

The Power of Example.

Editor of the "Gazette:"

A subscriber of the "Gazette" says he read in a local paper that the superintendent of Conshohocken Public school, loves an afterdinner smoke, and that the teachers and friends made his birthday the occasion of a cigar shower to make his evenings happy. The writer wonders if the study of physiology is absolutely necessary in our public schools. Can any such teachers teach that tobacco is injurious to the human system with any degree of sincerity?

Can any such teachers be expected to aid or do his duty in enforcing the cigarette law? In the subscriber's opinion it seems just as plausible to expect a temperance lecturer to make people believe he is sincere that liquor is injurious when they know he indulges in "hooch," after dinner. Example has much to do with a child's actions, and public school teachers are under normal obligations to parents and society to practice what they teach.

Yours Very Truly,
GEORGE W. WIMMER.

One Killed; Other Injured.

One man was ground to bits and another was badly hurt about noon Friday at the Mooreland avenue railroad crossing Hatboro, when their automobile was struck by a train.

Two men, junk dealers, Charles Laruf and Benny Becker, Philadelphia, driving a Ford truck, were going east on Mooreland avenue and although the crossing bell was ringing and the approaching train sounded its whistle the men seemed to pay no heed and went directly on the track in front of the locomotive, which had reduced its speed to make the stop at Hatboro station, fifty yards below the crossing.

The engine struck the automobile just where the men sat, threw out the occupants, killing Charuls Laruf, of Philadelphia, by cutting him into at least forty pieces, strewing bits of his body and bones from the crossing south along the track for sixty feet. Benny Becker, of 302 North Second street, Philadelphia, was the other occupant of the car and he was cut and several bones broken.

Attractive Investment.

West & Co. of Philadelphia and New York, a well known banking house, who are members of both the Philadelphia and New York Stock exchanges, are offering in another column an attractive issue of bonds which afford the carful investor an opportunity to obtain 7 3-4 per cent. on their money for a period of 30 years.

Purchasers of bonds having a long time to run at high interest rates will find themselves in a fortunate position when we return to normal conditions with money lending at 5 per cent.

This firm is an old established house, well known to the banks in this locality.

Boyd and Ruth Introduce Bills.

Senator James Boyd in the state senate has introduced a bill appropriating $165,00 to Norristown state hospital for improvements, $4[illegible] for lands and $500,000 to meet deficiencies.

Assemblyman Ruth, of the Second Legislative district, introduced a bill appropriating $500,000 to the state hospital for insane at Norristown for maintenance $40,000 for the purchase of adjoining property and $165,000 for enlarging the facilities of the institu-

BIG SHOOTING PARK CLUB.

Great Undertaking Planned for Fort Washington.

Prospectus Calls for the Purchase of Two Tracts of 24 and 128 acres Respectively—Improvements Contemplates—But Read the Story.

Fort Washington is shortly to be officially restored to the map. The first time it appeared in history was when the immortal George w s compelled by the activities of the ever-pressing British and the favorable geographical and physical barriers of the neighborhood to stop sufficiently long there to insure the name, "Fort Washington" as a possibility and to make it a reality, and now comes the return of the village to renown, when the limelight of prominence is cast again on the eminences and fair hills of beautiful and historical section, whereof two properties—24 acres and 128 acres—are to be incorporated, according to a prospectus bearing the signature of "J. W. Thompson and Co., (fiscal agents) 5108 Spruce street, Philadelphia," and to be legally known, if the plans materialize, as the "Fort Washington Shooting Park Club." The tracts of land in mind are evidently those now owned by oJhn M. Kennedy, Jr., of 407 South VanPelt street, Philadelphia.

The prospectus reads as follows: "The Fort Washington Shooting Park Club" is to purchase two certain properties, one situated at Fort Washington, Pa., with two railroads and trolley within seven minutes' walk of the stations, comprising 24 acres, improved with large mansion of 22 rooms with all conveniences, and nine room cottage adjoining; and a farm of 128 acres situated just above Fort Washington, on Highland road, about 3 1-2 miles above Chestnut Hill, on the Bethlehem pike road, improved with a substantial farm stone building of 17 rooms, barn and ice house, adjoining some of the richest estates and summer homes of the richest families of Philadelphia, where land is selling from $300 to $1500 per acre.

"Improvements contemplated. To enclose about 10 acres at first, to be used as an 'arena,' with wire and iron poles covered over, for the purpose of raising quail, pheasnts and rabbits for the market, and where shots may be made one certain rules and regulations as the parks of England.

"The laying off of an 18-hole golf links, together with racetrack both for men and horses, tennis courts, croquet plats and exercise grounds. The promulgation of poultry, flowers, berries, fruits, hot house plants, pigeons and a large piggery.

"A shooting park for clay pigeons and glass balls, where tournaments may be held twice a week, or three times, as the patronage may demand, with such high named prizes, so to attract the best shooters of the country, and for members.

"To incorporate the company with a capital of $100,000—2000 shares, par value of $50 per share, to be increased, and to issue $200,000 6 per cent. first mortgage gold coupon bonds maturing in 10 years, registered by one of the largest trust companies in Philadelphia.

"The improvements will be such as to make it a select winter and summer resort, with every convenience and exercise, surrounded by beautiful landscapes, walks, pavilions homelike and receptive.

"The profits from such an enterprise should be very large, and a safe investment, commanding patronage from the highest class of people who participate in such sports.

"In presenting you this proposition it is in view of having a high class moral to be patrons and members who are satisfied with innocent sports and exercises, where intoxicants and gambling will be strictly forbidden, but the greatest enjoyment and pleasures can be obtained at moderate costs."

As to the financial side of the enterprise, that is all worked out very nicely in the prospectus. Improvement costs total $36,000, comprising the following: Adding 20 rooms to town house, $25,000; lighting, heating, water supply, $3000; garage, stabel, ice house, $3000; grading ,landscape and lake, $3000; painting and decorating, $2000; etc.

In addition, improvements to the farm are estimated at $173,000 more, including a $30,000 addition to and remodeling of the farm house; heating etc., $5000; ice house, garage, piggery, $10,000; enclosing "arena" with iron poles, wire, 10 acres, 40 feet in height, $10,000; stocking with quail, pheasants, rabbits, $4000; motor cars and trucks, $11,000, golf links, $6720; shooting park and stands, $2500; fuel, labor and first year's expenses, $10,000; interest $200,000 bonds at 6 per cent, $12,000. The total improvement, as estimated, will cost therefore, $173,000.

Besides the above expenses, the prospectus of the "Fort Washington Shooting Park Club" provides for revenue in the total sum, the first year, of $100,000, as follows: Average for 10 months of 3000 persons per month admission to the "arena," $30,000; membership, limited to 200, at $100 per year, $20,000; profits on piggery, poultry, flowers, vegetables, $10,000; entries at the two shooting matches per week, $20,000; outside profits, $5000; net profits on hotels (low estimate), $10,000; profits on race track, $5000.

Now then, keeping that $100,000 in mind as the "revenue from the first year," all there is to do is to subtract therefrom the interest on the bonded indebtedness, $12,000, and allow $8000 for depreciation, repairs, etc., and behold, the enterprise proves its worth in the form of a splendid net profits of $80,000 the very "first year."

The prospectus adds: "The above present worth of the property purchasing, the town house with improvements, $4[illegible],000; farm and improvements, $64,000, or a total of $104,000.

Thep rospectus adds: "The above figures are based on knowledge obtained from owners of parks in England, with only about half of the acreage and profits not named on several things pertaining to the objest in view, which will be added at small costs.

"The introduction of the 'arena' in this country should be most attractive, to command patronage, as well as the roof garden, most enjoyable, looking over the country with our beautiful landscapes and pavilions.

"One park alone in England, where lessee pays $56,000 per year rent, cleared $105,000 in 1920. This gives us some basis for our profits to present to the sporting world."

So there you are. Q. E. D.

CENTRE SQUARE.

Up to this time Earnest Michael has failed to recover his Ford Sedan, which was recently stolen.

Joseph, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zorneck, is suffering from an attack of mumps.

Rev. Mr. Snyder, the new pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, has finished moving from Reading to the parsonage of the local church.

John Righter, local carpenter, is doing some repair work at the Taylor farm.

Considerable of the material is now on the ground for Harry Mumbower's large chicken house, the foundation of which has already been laid.

Mrs. Bergey, who lives in one end of the lodge tenant house, has bought the Reinhard property, formerly tenanted by Reuben Rodebaugh, Sr.

The members of the Ladies' Auxiliary, of Centre Square Fire company, entertained the ladies of the Norristown Fire companies Saturday afternoon. The afternoon was spent in a most enjoyable manner at bridge and 500. Later refreshments were served.

Harfner, local painter, is painting the new addition to Courtland Morris' property.

The proposition to enlarge the dance floor in the firemen's auditorium, which came before the fire company at its last monthly meeting, it is believed, will not be acted upon until sometime during the summer. The dances held in the company have become such enjoyable affairs that the attendance has increased at each dance until at present the company has found it necessary to consider the enlargement proposition.

The township supervisors are having stone hauled on Zimmerman and Hangstorfer's roads.

Last Saturday evening shortly after 7 o'clock the shrill screams of a woman rent the air and caused residents in the vicinity to rush to their doors to ascertain the cause. Later Mrs. Buchanan was found on the porch of Camille Flotte in a high state of excitement. It is said, when questioned Mrs. Buchanan stated that she was walking towards her home and when she had reached a point almost opposite Mr. Flotte's home two men sprang out at her and she courageously gave battle despite the odds against her. It was evident that they were trying to gain possession of her pocketbook, and only after she had become almost exhausted did she scream for help. Mrs. Buchanan continues to show evidence of her terrible experience.

Miss Nellie Wood, of Philadelphia, was the guest of Eugene Whittock and family over Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Schwenk entertained the euchre and five hundred club at their home on Saturday evening. An enjoyable evening was spent and a delightful lunch was served.

F. Clifford Bernhard and family entertained on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. James Bernhard and Thomas G. Comly and family, of Ambler, and Howard L. Baker.

The Centre Square grange will hold a special meeting this Thursday evening in Firemen's Hall.

Miss Bertha Friday, of North Wales, was the guest of George B. Kibblehouse and family on Sunday.

WEST POINT.

A former resident to visit here the past week was Mrs. Thomas Gibson, of Tacony.

Walter Bookheimer assisted in Harry M. Nace's general store on Monday.

Frank Nolan, who was on the sick list recently, is now able to attend to barber duties again.

The Wissahickon Camp Fire girls are making an effect to secure old clothing for Russian refugees and will be pleased to receive donations of such goods from any of the residents of West Point and vicinity.

Our local foundry company continues to be busy, and in order to get out the work the plant is kept in operation until 10 p. m.

Walter Cassel is recovering from an infected wound to one of his hands, which was due to an injury he received while at work at the Lansdale Safety [illegible] company's plant.

Raymond Light, who has resided here at the home of Mrs. Lutzz, will make his future home in Allentown with his mother.

The members of the West Point Fire company were successful last week in collecting more than 1500 pounds of old newspapers, which will be sold to increase the finances of the company.

The township supervisors are stoning the small street between Garfield avenue and Jones street.

Charles Lund has been making some improvements to his property, also making a driveway into his yard.

For the third time the garage in the rear of Edward Hallmeyer's home has been broken into. Last Friday night, or early Saturday morning a thief entered the garage by breaking the lock on the door and stole Wesley L. Bean's Ford car. On the first occasion John Henry's machine was stolen, which was received later near Fairview. The thief's second attempt resulted in the intruder frightened off.

New Prison Warden.

The board of Montgomery county prison inspectors at a meeting, elected Major Romanus Fellman, of Pine street, as warden of the institution, to succeed Lemuel Roberts, the recent warden, who has been in ill health for some time, being unable for the past month to get about.

Lemuel Roberts, who was assistant warden for years, became warden about 12 years ago on the death of Abraham Gotwals, and Mrs. Gotwals was retained as matron of the institution till about a year ago, when she resigned and Mrs. Roberts was appointed to the vacancy. Several years ago Warden Roberts became the victim of an attack of rheumatism from which he never recovered fully. Four weeks ago he became bedfast and the inspctors decided that it was necessary to have an active head in charge of affairs at the jail.

REAL ORANGE JUICE IS BEST.

Labels on Purchased Articles Are Sometimes Misleading.

Many Of the So-Called Orange Drinks Contain No Orange Juice, Say Chemists of the United States Department of Agriculture.

"Why should I buy oranges and press out the juice for the baby when I can buy it already made?" said Mrs. Housekeeper, holding up a bottle containing a yellow beverage with a fanciful name and the picture of a delicious yellow orange on the label. "This saves lots of work and is cheaper. Besides, the baby likes it real well."

"But this is not orange juice; it is cialist, carefully examining the fancy label. "You said that your physician told you to give the baby orange juice No physician would ever prescribe this concoction. Forget the picture of an orange and read the fine print on the label. In that the manufacturer pretends to comply with the provisions of the food and drugs act by partly correcting some of the misleading features of the label. You notice that it is by the picture of an orange, and the use of a fanciful name which suggests orange fruit. The color of the orange is obtained by the use of an artificial dye. The only part of the orange in this stuff is perhaps a minute quantity of oil pressed from orange which carries the aroma and flavor of orange."

NOT GETTING ORANGE JUICE.

"You mean to say my baby has not been getting any orange juice? The doctor said he needed that more than any thing. No wonder he stayed sick."

"The only orange your baby gets from this bottle is the smell," replied the food specialist. "Your physician prescribed orange juice for the baby because it contains certain organic acids which have medicinal value and also contains vita mines which are essential to growth. Your physician prescribed orange juice because the vitamines are lacking in sufficient quantity in pasteurized. But this concoction is essentially a sweetened artificially carbonated water flavored with a little oil from the peel of the orange and colored to imitate orange juice. It contains none of the medical qualities of vitamines of orange juice."

This incident, which might occur in any city of the United States, emphasizes the warning recently issued by the officials of the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture, to read carefully all labels in the food and drug packages.

National prohibition has resulted in the market being flooded with soft drinks, some of which are imitations of various fruit juices and sold under fanciful names in order to evade if possible the necessity of stating on the label what the product really is. Because of the deceptive nature of the label on some of these products, the officials in charge of the enforcement of the Federal food and drugs act havt instituted proceedings to require correct labeling. In the meantime, pending judical decisions as to what is correct labeling of these products under the law, some manufacturers are continuing to put their deceptively labeled products on the market.

READ LABELS CAREFULLY.

While the labels referred to are grossly misleading on a casual reading such as is given by the average housewife, they usually do contain statements in a more or less inconspicuous way which will reveal to the careful, critical reader the fact that the product is not it purports to be. These inconspicuous statements are usually placed on the labels for the purpose of evading the penalties for misbranding. The manufacturer hopes to mislead the purchasers by suggestive statements and pictures played up prominently on the label as to attract instant attention, and escape the charge of misbranding by correcting the misleading features with inconspicuous statements in another part of the label which the average purchaser does not read.

The officials have ruled that the terms "ade," "squash," "punch," "crush," and "smash," when used in conjunction with the name of a fruit can be applied correctly only to beverages which contain the edible portion of the fruit or juice of the fruit fruit juice, and it is in order that purchasers may distinguish between three named. Such terms should not be applied to products flavored only with esential oils or essences.

County May Boost Assessments.

Valuations on real estate in Montgomery county are due for a boost of the reports in circulation about the court house have any foundation. It is rumored that the commissioners have decided that the law has been severely fractured in the past, when assessors failed to assess property at full value, and will issue instructions that all real estate be assessed at 100 per cent.

This means that inflated values of property will drop, or the owner will simply "kid" himself when he sets a high and outrageous price upon his property. If the assessors are kept in line with the 100 per cent. plan, a dwelling house or business plant will be assessed at the value "which it would bring at a well advertised sale."

This is the law on assessments, and in order to meet borough and county expenses with a low tax rate, the best expedient is higher and more equal assessments.

In rough figures, the average assessments of the entire county is now only 50 per cent. Some communities average as low as 30 per cent. and others run to 75 per cent. But the county authorities, it is reported, have figured on an increased income which will equal 2 mills of tax, by raising the assessmnt to the full valuation, according to law.

A prominent county official, in discussing this nature said that all taxes can be dri[illegible] the lowest point, if the full va[illegible] system is applied. With the [illegible] of Norristown practically [illegible] new assessment plan will be [illegible] and eventually bring the high borough rate to a lower level.

Assessments in Plymouth and Whitemarsh.

In the first township of Plymouth [illegible] of $2,395,855 with exceptions amounting to $37,300.

In the second class township of Whitemarsh, the total assessment is placed at $3,017,3[illegible] with exemption of $115,500.

The property in the borough of West Conshohocken has a total assessment of $723,28[illegible] with exemption of 42,650.

The taxes collected in Conshohocken for construction of bridges repairing streets and the maintenance of other public works amounts to $34,515.10. The sum collected for school purposes (which does not include any appropriation from the state) amounts to $39,582.85. The sum collected on personal property in the borough of Conshohocken is $2,477.61.

County Wins in Anders Action.

In an opinion Judge Miller decides that the county of Montgomery is entitled to recover from Evelyn S. and Stanley S. Anders, administrators of the estate of George H. Anders, late county treasurer, the sum of $3000, with interest on half of this sum from January 1, 1917, and on the balance from January 5, 1918.

This was money retained by Mr. Anders from the receipts of his office as reimbursement for traveling expenses in collecting county taxes, and which the court has decided was done without warrant in law.

Mr. Anders was treasurer of Montgomery county from January 1, 1916, and died in office January 10, 1918.

It was learned after his decease that, notwithstanding he had received the full salary allowed by law for the years 1916 and 1917, he had also withdrawn from the county funds, under claim of right, the further sum of $1500 for each year to cover his traveling expenses in collecting the taxes for those years in the mannerr provided by the act of 1868.

The fact that he had actually spent these sums was admitted. The County's only contention was that he had no right to reimbursement therefor out of these funds, and the purpose of the suit was to have his alleged right adjudicated.

The case was heard before the court without a jury and substantially upon an agreement of facts.

The court does not find that Mr. Anders was not etitled to the $3000, of the county commissioners saw fit to pay it to him, as additional compensation for colecting the taxes in the outlying districts, but it does find that the late Treasurer had no right to appropriate this sum as compensation for "traveling expenses," without a warrant from the county commissioners.

State Will Donate Trees.

The Pennsylvania department of forestry will distribute free this spring about 3,500,000 forest tree seedlings to private land owners in the state, according to a statement issued by Clifford Pinchot, the chief state forester. Last year, 2,748,120 seedlings were given without cost to 792 private planters.

Since 1903, when the state nurseries began producing young trees, total output has been 45,909,309 seedlings. About 34,900,000 of them have been planted by the department of forestry on state forest lands, and the remainder have been planted by individual land owners. Some of the largest plantations have been established by coal mining, water and lumber companies. Scores of farmers, however, have planted thousands of seedlings on waste and idle land that is not suited for growing agricultural crops.

Twelve nurseries will be started this spring at state reformatories, hospitals and sanitariums. The institutions will supply land, labor, teams and equipment. The forestry department will provide seed and supervision. The seedlings and transplants grown at the state institutions, as well as those grown in the department's nurseries, will be given free for planting throughout the state. An annual demand for 20,000,000 forest trees and for 15,000 shade and ornamental trees is expected by the forestry department officials by 1925.

So far this winter, applications have been received from 230 planters for 1,120,382 trees. The department's supply of black walnut, white ash and Jack Pine seedlings is completely exhausted. The output of Norway spruce and honey locust is being applied for in such quantities that it soon will be gone. There is available for future applicants, however, a large supply of white pine and pitch pine seedlings.

Sacks of Money Found on Dead Woman's Body.

Maggie Smith, colored, aged about 50 years, died suddenly at the home of Joseph L. Shoemaker, 532 Spring avenue, Noble, where she was employed as a domestic. Miss Smith retired on Feb. 1st in apparently good health and on Wednesday morning when she failed to appear at the usual time, her room was visited and she was found dead in bed. A physician was summoned who said death was due to natural death causes.

Coroner Neville investigated the case and found death to have been due to natural causes and gave the body in the charge of a Jenkintown undertaker. As he was preparing the body for embalming, he found a number of small sacks and pads hung on various portions of the body. One of the sacks was riped open and five $100 notes were revealed. The coroner had the other sacks and pads opened and all were filled with bank notes. In all $1231.42 were found.

The woman had been employed in the Shoemaker home only a short time, having come there from an employment agency. Coroner Neville found that the woman previously resided in Philadelphia near Twentieth and Master streets. The money represented her saving. No relatives of the woman can be found as far as the coroner has ascertained, she has no known relatives.

Coroner Neville has deposited the money in bank and will hold it subject to the orders of the court. Should there be no relatives, the money, after payment of her debts, will revert to the state.

Horsemen To Banquet.

All the arrangements are now complete for the annual banquet of the Warminster Driving club and for the first step towards better horse racing facilities in 1921 at the Doylestown track.

The directors of the association met Wednesday night in Chalfont at Kelly's Hotel, when Thursday night, Feb. 24, was fixed as the banquet date. The affair will be held at the Court Inn, Doylestown. Improvements to be made at the new track built last year were dicussed and a committee was authorized to carry out the project. Among the improvements will be an enlarged grand-stand and home accomodations for horses.

On Wednesday, Feb. 9, the Warminster directors will attend the annual meeting and banquet of the Pennsylvania State association of county fairs, in Green's hotel, Philadelphia.

Among the new horses that will appear on the Warminster track this year are two good trotters recently purchased by Aden Supplee, of Holicong. Mr. Supplee will make the best go the limit with his "Abe Mack," a fast trotter with a good record. "Rosella McKinney,'4' another trotter purchased by Supplee, is said to be a comer.

His Dog Shot, Wants License Money.

His courting cut short and life wiped out by a neighbor's bullet the owner of a dog in Woodmont, this county, is trying to recover a license fee sent in the day before the canine met his sudden end.

Mr. Dog used poor judgment in his desire for companionship when he strayed to the property of an expert shot, and there made love to the marksman's female terrier. The letter from the owner of the dead dog received by the County Commissioners reads:

"My wife sent you her check for license for dog ($1.) The next day a neighbor shot and killed the dog because he was on his place—he had a female dog. Please countermand the order and oblige. My wife's name is Emma."

The license had already been issued in this case, but, even though there had been delay, the fee was due and payable for any period after January 1.

Bucks County Home Gets Electric Light.

Contracts have been awarded to a New Hope firm for the erection of a new $2900 lighting plant to be installed at the Bucks County Almshouse to take the place of the present antiquated gas plant.

Through the efforts of Steward James Pollock the county institution will have an up-to-date lighting plant that will save the county much money. It is estimated that the cost of operation will be cut in half.

When the present gas plant was installed at the home, carbide cost the county $60 a ton. At present time the cost is $114 a ton.

Solebury Deer Park Passes to New Owner.

Solebury Deer Park containing 70 acres has been sold by Charles Edward Foulke, real estate agent, New Hope, for Hugh B. Easterburn, of Bristol, to John Zimmerman, Jr., of Philadelphia.

Thomas Truman has entered into an agreement with J. P. Brenner for the purchase of the latter's bread, pastry, candy and ice cream business, store and fixtures in the "Gazette" building and expects to assume charge on April 1. Mr. Truman is an adept at making fine pastry and under the arrangement will sell over his own counter the fine products of his own manufacture, which within the past few months for which the residents of Ambler have expressed an emphatic demand.

Business at the Shingle Company is going along as usual, although a few orders are being received. The business in February will be about one quarter of that received last February. The only reason that the Shingle Company continues to run full handed is the belief in the minds of its owners that some time next summer the shingles that are now being manufactured will be sold. During the winter many times as many shingles as can be sold are manufactured, and during the summer many times more shingles are sold than can be manufactured, which state of things requires a lot of money to successfully conduct the business although the workmen profit by it through continuous employment.

Tickets are out for the minstrel show of the Wissahickon Fire company, which will be presented in the opera house on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, March 9 and 10. The chart opens on March 2 at 7 p. m. at the fire house when reserved seat tickets will be issued. The boys are making excellent progress with the rehearsals. It is promised the whole setting of the stage will be both new and novel for the event, and the program itself is full of catchy, popular music, telling hits, humor and all characteristics which have made these events of the fire company such successful presentations. All the boys have good voices, and this feature will be a delightful part of the program. The end men for the minstrel show have been carfully selected, and the ammunition to be fired over the foot lights to the audience has been revised, censored, and revivified for the benefit of those who, in the eyes of the caste, have been in the limelight of Ambler's affairs during the past few months. Don't delay in purchasing your ticket, as the demands already are heavy.

According to reports received from all section along the North Penn from City line to Lansdale there is a concerted movement afoot to fight the increased rates of the Philadelphia Suburban Gas company. What the outcome will be can only be surmised. On all sides one hears complaint, which is apprehensive for the company, because, as one resident remarked," The best asset that any public concern can have is its satisfied consumers." Not alone are complaints made regarding the increase rates, but there are many other things that consumers are charged for, and it is said that when information is asked as to these extra charges the consumer is told that he must either pay or have his gas cut off. It will be interesting to note," said a user of the company's product recently, "just what will happen if a concerted action takes place among the consumers to discontinue the service in their homes." The Philadelphia newspapers recently have printed columns regarding the fight against the company by North Penn residents, and in addition it is the general topics of conversation in the home and on the trains.

FLOURTOWN.

Services as usual next Sunday in Springfield Presbyterian church. Prayer meeting this Wednesday evening.

The annual Martha Washington supper of the Ladies' Aid society will be held next Tuesday evening from 6 to 9 o'clock.

The members of Flourtown Fire company are preparing to raise funds to install a fire whistle.

Mrs. Earnest Hemming continues to be ill and confined to her room. However at this writing her condition is somewhat improved.

The new 50,000-gallon water tank, just north of the station along the railroad, is complete and the men employed thereon have left for New York state, where they will erect two tanks of 1,000,000 gallons capacity each.

Next Saturday afternoon there will be a blue rock shoot on the fire company's grounds.

George Snyder returned Monday after spending several days in Williamsport on business.

The Blue Bell Lime and Stone company has been shipping quite a number of carloads of hydrated lime and fluxing stone from its kilns and quarries near this place.

Delegates from Flourtown camp, P. O. S. of A., to attend the annual convention of the order at Ambler next Tuesday are: William Anson, Sr.; William Anson, Jr., and William Clymer.

William Gerstlauer has sold his Ford Sedan, which was awarded to him by the baseball club, to Stanley White, of Germantown.

John Huber expects to move to his new house on Grove avenue this week.

William Maust is ill and confind to his bed at this writing.

Herbert Seddon is renovating and making some improvements to his property on the pike preparatory to occupying the same.

Truman, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Clark, met with a painful accident one day last week while at play. Another boy playing with a bow and arrow shot one of the arrows which happened to be a stick from a weed, striking him in the eye. The stick entered the eye within the fraction of an inch of the sight. A piece of the stick about four or five inches long broke off in the ball of the eye when withdrawn one stitch was required to close the wound.

Fresh Vegetables From Your Own Garden.

Nothing so surprises the foreigner who is visiting America for the first time, as the fact that so few American homes have their own vegetable beds. In every suburb most homes have a lawn and flower beds, but many do not plant vegetables.

Possibly the high cost of living during the past several years will prove a blessing in the end, because it is leading more and more people to use to advantage the garden space around their homes.

With a proper guide to the right vegetables to plant, and with proper cultural instructions one can readily secure from any suburban backyard a succession of the finest fresh vegetables superior in quality to those secured in the average market and produced at a trifling cost. Any of our readers can secure free of charge an instructive 160-page Catalogue from Michell's seed House, 518-516 Market Street, Philadelphia, which shows when and where to plant. Tells how to get the greatest yield from the smallest space by planting for succession, raising early peas, string beans, and corn on the same ground for instance. Following the suggestion found in this book you can cut the cost of living greatly, yet not reduce the amount of lawn space nor the beauty of the flower garden.

Do not forget to write to-day to Michell's Seed House, Philadelphia for this beautiful Catalogue with its natural colored pictures of asters, sweet peas, nasturtiums, zinnias and gladiolus.

Faces Highway Robbery Charge.

Frank O'Daniel, of Philadelphia, was arrested on a warrant issued by Magistrate Lenahrdt, in which he is charged by Dominic Palodine, of Plymouth township, with assault and battery and highway robbery. According to the information on the warrant the defendant is charged with laying in wait along the roadway leading from the Plymouth Magnesia works on Feb. 4, the prosecutor being jumped on, attacked and robbed of about $70 in cash. O'Daniel was held in $1000 bail for a hearing on February 21.

Chokes Two Thieves as Third Knocks Him Out.

Harry Gross, a barber of Lansdale found three robbers in his home about 6 o'clock in the morning, he gave battle and was administering a fine exhibition of the headlock hold to a pair when the third got behind and handed him a knockout wallop. Then the three got away.

Gross had a man under each arm when the sleep-producing bump was given him. His appearance save his wife's fur coat and a number of cut-glass articles that the intruders had arranged in a pile.

Pennsylvania Company for Insurance on Lives and Granting Annuities, Philadelphia, and George M. Clarke, New York city.

These bonds are secured by First Mortgage on the property of the Kentucky & West Virginia Power Company, Inc. This company serves with power and light, without competition, eight counties in Kentucky and West Virginia. Its growth is governed largely by the amount of power it can deliver, as the demand is greater than its production. The earning record since organization is one of continued growth. The company's plants are operated at very low fuel cost owing to being located close to the great coal fields in the territory it serves.

Price 91-1-2 p. c. and Interest Yield 7 3-4 p. c.

We recommend the above issue of bonds for conservative investment, because in our opinion:--

They are well secured by First Mortgage.
Earning twice interest on these bonds.
Future business based on essential Industry.
Price is low.
High Yield for thirty years.
Favorable Tax Features.
Lowering Commodity prices should cause Power and Light Co.'s Bonds to advance in price.

These Bonds have been approved by the Bank Examiner in the State of Maine as a legal investment for Savings Banks in that State.

A sale of women's and children's new winter hats will be held in the basement of Baptist church, Thursday 17th, from 2 to 5.

Miss Geraldine Weidner, a member of the Coatesville school faculty, spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Sarah Weidner.

Miss Helen Pole, on Saturday returned to her Ambler home after a stay in the Jewish hospital. She is convalescing rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kerper of Sumneytown, were Sunday guests at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Sarah Wolff, of Ambler.

Charles Neeman, well known resident of Ambler, formerly tax collector of the borough, was stricken with paralysis while on duty Thursday evening in the plant of the Keasbey and Mattison company's plant.

The Ladies' Aid society, of Calavry M. E. church, will hold a sale of home baked goods at the church Saturday afternoon, Feb. 19th, at 2.30. Prices will be reasonable.

Charles Stout, of North Main street, says he distinctly recalls business conditions during and after the Civil war, and history is repeating itself now with regard to price fluctuations. Then the purchasing power of money was depressed so that prices were abnormally high. Wheat had been $3 per bushel. A few years after peace was signed prices fell until wheat sold for 35 cents per bushel, and Mr. Stout said he hauled potatoes through Germantown, Chestnut Hill and Philadelphia offering to sell them for 25 cents per bushel and in several instances he was forced to haul them back to his farm.

Then ext regular meeting of the Colony Club will be held Wednesday, Fb. 23rd, at 2.30 in town hall, Ambler, The entire program will be given by club members Mrs. Stanley Allen will read. Mrs. Effie R. Anchutz will review "An Old Chester Secret," by Margaret Deland. There will be good music under the direction of Mrs. Foedisch, chairman of music. A woman's exchange will be conducted as at the meeting March 9th. Any member's having any fancy articles, pies, bread, etc., for sale, please bring to the town hall. The sale will open at 10 a. m. and continue up to time of club meeting. It is hoped all the members will endeavor to attend this meeting as they are sure to find it a most interesting one.

The case of the commonwealth vs. Joseph Piper, colored and Michael Tamborino, Italian, charged with committing five burglaries, and one larceny, will come up for trial before the court at Norristown this Thursday Piper also has a charge against him of highway robbery. The two defendants are but 17 years of age, and the only evidence against them so far as can be learned, is a signed confession, which is in the hands of the state police and a signed check, which it is alleged was taken from Charles M. Shull's cigar store at the time the store was robbed and which was later cashed. The check has the endorsement of Joseph Piper. There is considerable speculation by residents as to how the court will view the confession of the boys. Even the victims of the robberies are inclined to doubt the boys' story that they did the robbing. However, there are just a few facts brought by the boys themselves that must be taken into consideration, and which, it is belived the court will also recognize. There is nothing, as stated, to back up the boys' confession. None of the goods has been recovered, but the few facts that must be considered are that they are able to tell just what was taken from the places robbed and also how entered. At the Morris' robbery Piper discribes a number of the things that were done during the time that the robbery took place that connects him with the crime Piper, also told the police that he and another man robbed the Keasbey and Mattison company garage. The man he implicated turned out to be a law abiding citizen of the community, and the many years that he lived here he was never even suspected of violating the law. The boy Tamborino has been arrested a number of times for larceny. The first of which took place when he was but 12 years of age. Sometime in December his father caused his arrest for the larceny of a bicycle. Just before Christmas has father relented and secured the release of the boy from the county jail.

AMBLER G.M.DECK & CO. PENNA.

Ambler postoffice will be closed on Feb. 22, Washington's birthday, after 9 a. m. There will be no deliveries made by carriers.

Alan Mathias, of Philadelphia for a long time a resident and active business man of Ambler, was in our borough on Tuesday afternoon.

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the fourth assistant postmaster-general at Washington, D. C., until 4.30 p. m. March 15, 1921, for carrying United States mail from July 1, 1921, to June 30, 1925, on the route from Ambler to Doylestown. Application blanks may be had by applying to the postmaster at Ambler.

The meeting of the Colony club held on Wednesday, Feb. 9th, was a most interesting one. After a short business meeting the club had the pleasure of listening to Mrs. A. K. Gregory, president of the Bala-Cynwynd club, give a reading, "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals," by Barrie. Those who listened to her will not soon forget the realistic manner in which she presented the different characters. Mrs. Thomas Craig sang a beautiful solo; piano accompaniest Miss Sarah Hopkins. Miss Robinson spoke on the European Relief and made a most earnest plea for help for those destitute and starving, especially for the children. The club had already given $20 to care for two children of Central Europe. A collection was taken up and given to Miss Robinson for the relief work. A woman's exchange was also conducted before and after the meeting. Various articles of food, canned goods, jellies, fancy articles, etc., were on sale. After tea was served and departed for their homes, feeling it had been an afternoon worth while and well spent.

Inquiry at the Keasbey and Mattison office concerning the dropping into a working schedule of three days per week in many departments, our reporter was told that apparently business has taken a holiday, and when shipments of manufactures upon old contracts are keeping up, so far as new business is concerned, there isn't any, or at least very little. Dr. Mattison said that workmen are idle in Ambler, because mechanics in Elizabeth, N. J., for instance, are not willing as yet to go to work at building house at less wages than they received last year, in consequence of which, no building are being started, and the men continued to be idle. There will be no business until workingmen generally are willing to accept wages which correspond with the reduced prices of sugar, pork, potatoes, apples, hams and other things, and the cotton goods which they have to wear. Citton last year sold at 40 cents; this year it sells at 14 cents. Sugar was 25 cents per pound; now it is 10 cents or less. Potatoes were $3 per bushel; now they are about $1 or so and many other things are going down likewise. He said that if the men have any other way of making a living, he would not turn a wheel until the 1st of April but he is running the work three days a week to help keep the wolf from the door, although he does not know if he can even keep this up or not. He certainly cannot unless he receives some business from somewhere, as with the present small demand he has enough covering n hand to last a year or two without making any more. However, he believes that the present crisis is only temporary that people will come to their senses and they will accept the inevitable and get back to a peace basis and go to work at a reduced price.

A flock of blackbirds appeared about Ambler on Tuesday.

Chief of Police Ford is spending this Wednesday at Wycombe, Bucks county, visiting his children.

Mrs. T. Duncan Just, Rev. Ralph L. Mayberry, Joseph J. Harton and William Leach are serving on the jury at Norristown this week.

The Ambler branch of the Needlework Guild will meet to sew at Mrs. John R. Sperry's 645 North Spring Garden street, next Monday at 2 o'clock owing to Mrs. Barnes being in Atlantic City.

The Ushers' Union and Brotherhood of Upper Dublin Lutheran church meets next Monday evenig at 8 o'clock at Mr. Warren Ely's, 808 Butler avenue. An interesting program. Full attendance urged.

Cards and dance, under the auspices of the entertainment committee of Wissahickon chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, in Ambler opera house, Monday evening next. Good music. Tickets 75 cents.

H. Paul Barnes, assistant to the first vice president and general manager of the Keasbey and Mattison company, presented a brief before the Ways and Means committee of congress, in Washington, D. C., recently, asking for a protective tariff on asbestos products manufactured in the United States. In presenting the brief Mr. Barnes represented the asbestos manufacturers of America. Mr. Barnes spent several days in Washington last week, and this Thursday he will sail for Cuba.

The Rev. C. L. Oswald, of Philadelphia, conducted the opening service of the exangelistic campaign in the Presbyterian church. Dr. Oswald will preach every evening, except Saturday, until Feb. 27th. The service begins at 7.45, and will open with a service of gospel singing, under the leadership of Mrs. H. L. Peabody. These meetings for general betterment are for all. You are welcome. More religion in business, social, personal life. "Christ the Way-Truth-Life." Do we possess Him? Are we possessed by Him?

Next Tuesday the annual county convention of the Patriotic Order Sons of America will be held in the Ambler camp room. There will be two sesions, morning and afternoon, and it is believed that upwards of 200 delegates will be present, as there will be considerable business of importance transacted. In the evening many of the delegates as well as a large number of the members of the local camp will attend the class initiation of the order in the Metropolitan opera house, Philadelphia, at which time more than 1500 candidates will be received into the order.

At the meeting of the Ambler Athletic association, held in town hall last Saturday afternoon the following officers were elected: President, Joseph A. Buchanan, vice president, William B. Egolf; treasurer, M. T. Rhoads; secretary, Elmer Jacoby; manager, Howard S. Amey; business manager, Raymond Johnson. Plans were discussed for the coming season, and if carried out Ambler will again be a factor in the race for the 1921 pennant. Manager Amey states there will be many new faces on the team this season. It is rumored that Charles Barker has been assigned to do the catching, and in the outfield will be found Samuel Cavis, who was with Doylestown last season. Cavis was also a member of the Ambler team during the season of 1918.

Mrs. E. L. Lewis, Mrs. H. H. Rynear's mother, is quite ill.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Ruch entertained the latter's sisters over the wek-end.

Joseph Anderson is contemplating extensive improvements to his property on Park avenue.

Oscar Nice, clerk in W. A. Clarke's hardware store, had the misfortune to step on a rake Monday and was struck in the eye by the handle, which inflicted a painful injury.

Thomas F. Shoemaker, who is in St. Joseph's hospital, Philadelphia, as a result of an accident in that city, is recovering slowly. His fractured jaw was set on Saturday, and the latest reports are that the patient is resting more easily than at any time since the distressing accident. One eye which at first was thought to be injured, is clearing up satisfactorily.

H. J. Dager, reports the sale of a buiding tract at the corner of Rosemont avenue and Heckler street, on the Ruch tract, Ambler, to John M. Steer, of Ambler, possession Feb. 25th. Also the sale of a building tract fronting on Heckler street adjoining the above tract to Albert Fry, of Ambler, possession Feb. 25th. In this issue of the "Gazette," Mr. Dager is advertising a clearance of farm stock, crops and machinery for Mr. Wrank N. Dickinson, at Wales Junction, this Saturday, Feb. 19th.

A number of Ambler's music-lovers were delightfully entertained last Thursday evening at a soiree and musicale at he home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Talbert, on Mattison avenue. The well-chosen and charmingly rendered program was as follows: Two selections by Losey and Messina, played by "The Quartet" consisting of Mrs. Talbert, violin; Mr. R. F. Lamphere, violin and clarinet; Mr. Harry Rynear, cornet and violincello, and Mrs. Fred Clark and Miss Grace Hipple, accompanists. Piano duet, Shubert's "Unfinished Symphony," Miss Sarah Ewing Hopkins. Violin solos, "Love's Greeting," by Elgar,and "Mazurka," by Mlynarski, by Mrs. Talbert, Beethoven's "Minuet in G." by "the Quartet." Two songs by Mrs. Parsons, Chaminade's "Summer" and "The Years at the Spring," by Mrs. Beach. Violin solo, "A Scotch Rhapsodie," by Venth, played by Mrs. Talbert. A minuet and rondina by Sochting, by "The Quartet." There were several encore selections, in response to the enthusiastic and well-deserved applause, and dainty refreshments closed an evening long to be remembered in Ambler's musical circles.

All Speed Ahead, Fearing Hold-Up.

An autoist who has the misfortune to weak a vital part in his machine, while wending his way homeward over a dark road at night., is doubly out of luck if he attempts to get help from a fellow tourist.

This was exemplified when Assistant District Attorney George C. Corson were returning from Phoenixville over the Port Kennely road, at 1.30 a. m.

As the corson machine turned around the sharp curve before entering the river bridge at Port Kennedy, a shaft of light shot acoss the front of the car, and a voice yelled "Stop!" George Corson visioned all of the hold-ups he had read in the newspapers and reached for his revolver. Ahead of him was a machine standing in midroad, and as he passed the man who held the flashlight he let go with a bullet into the air.

Like an American Ace tearing up the pathway to Berlin, Corson shot around the motionless "holdup" car, slid into a culvert, and out again and on to Norristown, where he reported the matter to the police.

The next day Attorney Corson found that several young men, and a couple of young girls were driving through Port Kennedy when their lights failed them. Instead of drawing to the side of the road, they stopped in the middle, and when the Corson lights shot out, they feared he would run into their car. To prevent an accident, one of the men flashed a light and yelled "Stop!"

A resident of Port Kennedy viewed the occurence from his window, and stated that after the Corson machine went by the man in the road fired two shots after it.

Sellersville Church Free of Debt.

A mortgage of $9000 on St. Paul's Reformed Church, Sellersville, represented by a bond issue, has been satisfied of record.

To mark the freedom from debt, the paper representing the incumbrance, will be burned at the morning service next sunday. This leaves a $35,000 church structure, with all its equipment, entirely free of debt.

In addition to this good news, the congregation has several endowment funds totalling over $2000 and valuable rights in cemetery property.

The Rev. George Greenawald, of Boyertown, pastor when St.. Paul's was built, will preach the sermon at the mortgage burning services.

Gifts to Historical Society.

Mrs. Eliza Case, of Newtown, has presented the Bucks County Historical Society with a $300 coupon bond of the ConfederateStates of America of the issue of 1863, also some Colonial and confederate money. The society has also acquired a new copy of the "History of the Goshenhoppen Reformed Church, Montgomery county, Pennsylvania, 1727-1919" written by William J. Hinke professor of semetic languages of religion, in Auburn Theological Seminary,, Auburn, N. Y. Mr. Hinke is a member of the Bucks County Historical Society and his book has just been published. It is very interesting to Bucks county residents because of the close relationship between the Montgomery county residents and the Bucks county folks. Mr. Hinke is at work at the present time on a history of the Tohickon Reformed Church at Church Hill, Bucks county.

Farm School Notes..

Among the 109 students enrolled at The National Farm School, Doylestown at the present time, are nine students sent by the board of vocational training of discharged soldiers, were wounded in the war. There are a large number of applications for admission to the National Farm School on file with the board of vocational training of discarged soldiers, but the school is unable to accept any more at this time, because the present enrollment more than taxes the capacity of the farm scool.

The graduation of 22 Seniors and three post-graduates will take place at the farm school on Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22. The Freshman class, to take the place of the young men who are to be graduated, will be admitted to the school on March 1st, applications for admission to which are being received now, and may be addressed to the chairman of the applications committee, Mr. Morris A. Kaufman, 407 Victory building, Philadelphia. Boys between the ages of 16 and 21 years, possessing a grammar school education, physical, mental and moral health, and a sincere desire to make agriculture a life's calling, are eligible for admission. The course is of three years' duration and embraces every phase of agricultural work.

New Gas Rate Complaint.

Complaint was lodged with the Public Service Commission Feb. 4 at Harrisburg by Edmund Rosenthal and Henry Strouse against the new gas rates of the Philadelphia Suburban Gas and Electric Co., for Jenkintown. They say the company arbitrarily apportioned the increase and did not read the meter on November 20.

Officials of the gas company declined to reply or comment upon the complaint, which it is said affects 7000 consumers of fuel in the district. It is alleged the overcharges in the recent action run into thousands of dollars.

L. R. .Dutton, division manager of the gas company for the Jenkintown district, said: "We have no reply to make to this allegation at this time. It would be anything but ethical to make any statement. For, as a matter of fact, we have no official knowledge of the filing of this complaint, and will have no such knowledge until the Pubcitizens of Jenkintown and Wyncote

Mr. Strouse is in the bonding business, and Mr. Rosenthal, Philadelphia merchant, both of whom live in Township line, Jenkintown citizens will join their protest with other communities, despite alleged propaganda of the company to the contrary.

Another development in the movement of protest is the appointmet of a committee of members of Jenkintown town council, authorized by the president, Charles E. Swartz, to make a councilmanic, as an official body, taking in the protests being made against the increase in the gas rates.

Plans will be formulated within the next day or two for a mass-meeting of citizens of eJnkintown and Wyncote, under the direction of the committee formed at a conference in the home of Philip Kind, president of the Jenkintown Improvement association. More than $500 has already ben subscribed, to cover the cost of the mass-meeting, and to be added to the fund started in the Glenside section.

Obsequies Over S. S. Hartranft.

Rev. W. Herbert Burk, rector of Washington Memorial chapel, Valley Forge, officiated, on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 5, at the obsequies of Samuel Sebring Hartranft, late Superintendent of Valley Forge Park.

The services, held at the home, were attended by men prominent in military, business, engineering, historical and political lines. Amongst these were some who had been closely associated with him during the period when he was right hand man to his father, former Governor John F. Hartranft.

The honorary pallbearers were selected from amongst the various bodies with which Mr. Hartranft was affiliated and included Dr. J. K. Weaver, and Dr. A. H. Read, both of Norristown; Charles Johnson, of Hickorytown; attorney C. Henry Stinson, of Port Indian, Henderson Supplee, of Port Kennedy; Col. William Elliot, Col. O. C. Bobyshell, General Snowden and Major Martin, of Philadelphia.

Interment at the Hartranft plot in Montgomery cemetery, where the Masonic rites prevailed.

LANSDALE.

J. D. Ogden has disposed of the tract of land and the buildings located between the Reading and the Stony Creek railroads at their junction point William H. Blank is the buyer of the house and about three acres of land David Orr has secured a section as has Robert Vogel. Mr. Ogden retains about two acres of the original tract.

Emil Vetter has moved from Hatfield to the Board place, above town, which he recently bought. Mrs. Elsie Mills vacated the Board place on Saturday, moving into one of the Clifford houses, on West Fourth street.

A new Ford car, belonging to Morris Stover, was stolen from in front of the postoffice, one evening recently. It was located the next morning in front of the cemetery, on South Broad street.

The retirement of Daniel S. Schultz as secretary of the North Penn Building and Loan Association and the election of Harry H. Schultz, his son, in his place was a feature of a largely attended meeting of the Association. All of the other officers were re-elected and George A. Thumm was made a Director in the place of H. Frank Derr, who is ill. Preliminary steps were taken to increase the authorized capitalization of the association to $3,000,000. it is now $1,000,000. "Dan" Schultz has served the Association as Secretary continuously for about 25 years and retires because he has become weary of the responsibility which the position entails.

Fred A. Clayton has bought a Ford sedan.

The following officers were recently installed by Washington Camp, P. O. S. of A.: Past president, Paul Boorse; president, Norman Fry; vice president Durrell Moyer; master of forms, Howard Cressman; recording secretary, Herbert Kline; assistant recording secretary, Roscoe Hafler; financial secretary, Peter M. Boorse; treasurer, Harry L. Schall; chaplain, Newton Buckner; conductor, Francis Swauger; inspector, Calvert Haines guard, Russel Peterman; right sentinel, Russell Vogol; left sentinel, Roy Buckner; trustees, Frank Mininger, O. S. Keller and Charles Tice.

American Berkshire Congress in Phila-

On Feb. 16, 17 and 18 the American Berkshire congress will meet in the First Regiment armory, Broad and Callowhill streets, Philadelphia.

On Thursday afternoon, Feb. 17th, Prof. Tomhave will give his meat-cutting demonstration, and will show what constitutes the highest priced cuts, which is very important to the Pork producing farmer, by way of showing him the proper type of hog to feed out that will produce the maximum amount of meat that brings the most money. Many farmers do not know that most butchers will pay a premium for a hog that they know will dress out a higher percentage of high priced cuts, and it is up to the Eastern farmer to find out just what kind of a hog it is that their butcher will pay the most for, and then see that they don't feed out any other kind.

The Berkshire that will be on exhibition, most of which will be bred sows, will be sold at public auction at one o'clock Friday afternoon, February 18th, and all farmers who are thinking of getting started in pure bred Berkshires, are especially urged to attend this sale, as it will be a long time before they will have an opportunity to get the pick of Berkshires from all over the United States, (one is even being sent to the sale from California) at such a nearby point as Philadelphia and at their own price.

Thief Gets Pocketbook.

While Abram Cassel, of Perkasie, was purchasing a ticket at the Lehigh Valey Transit Co's. office, Allentown, one night recently a thief stole a purse belonging to Mrs. Cassel, which she left in the custody of her husband only a few minutes before.

The purse with several packages was left on a seat in the waiting room, only a few steps from the window where he was purchasing the tickets. The thief escaped unnoticed.

TELESCOPE AT JENKINTOWN

16-Foot Instrument Set Up for Henry C. Gibson

Apparatus Housed in a Special Observatory of Unusual Construction—Mr. Gibson's Life Long Interest in Study of the Heavens.

There soon will be installed in Jenkintown, what is probably the largest telescope owned by an amateur in this section of the country. It is the property of Henry C. Gibson and will be placed in a large observatory constructed especially for it on the grounds of Mr. Gibson's home, "Fairy Hill," Jenkintown.

Mr. Gibson, who is assistant secretary and assistant treasurer of the Commercial Trust company, and also has a home at 2001 Walnut street, has had a penchant for astronomyv and what is vulgarly known as "star gazing" ever since his boyhood. But the pursuit that the others may appear only the light of a hobby, to him is a serious and absorbing interest, playing such an important part in his life that the building of a thoroughly modern and up-to-date observatory, at the cost of thousands of dollars, was a logical sequence.

"I see nothing at all unusual in my building this observatory," Mr. Gibson declared when questioned as to his motives. "You might as well ask the average girl why she likes to dance as to ask me why I am interested in the stars. I find the greatest enjoyment in looking at them and studying them, and always have ever since I can remember . I don't expect to make any startling discoveries, or anything like that, for there are plenty of scientists with telescopes much more powerful than mine who devote their whole lives to the study of astronomy, and it stands to reason that whatever discoveries there are to be made will be made by them. But I do expect to get a lot of pleasure out of my observatory, even though I will have only a few hours each night to enjoy it."

Word was received by Mr. Gibson last week that the telescope, ordered by him about fifteen months ago, is finished, and that as soon as the weather permits the making of a test, it will be shipped to him. The instrument is sixteen feet long, with an object glass twelve inches in diameter. That at the University of Pennsylvania Flower Observatory, on West Chester Pike, is eighteen feet in length, while the largest of the kind in the world has an object glass measuring forty inches across.

The telescope will be placed on a base nineteen feet high in the main compartment of the observatory. This is of unusual construction, being octagonal instead of round, with a rectangular roof, which, instead of sliding around, moves over the top of the other section of the building. A study and a dark room for the developing of pictures complete the observatory, which was planned by Mr. Gibson in collaboration with the architect.

While in France with the 148th Field Artillery, Mr. Gibson paid a visit to the Paris observatory, only to find that the telescope there and its elaborate equipment had been packed away to guard against German raiding planes. He has also visited the Mount Wilson observatory, at Pasadena, California, which houses the largest telescope of the reflector type in the world, with a mirror 100 3-8 inches in diameter. The second largest is at the Yerkes Observatory, University of Chicago, while the third largest is the Lick Observatory, on Mount Hamilton, California.

Bill up to License Penna. Fisherman.

A bill requiring resident fisherman to take out a license and pay a fee of $1, which is backed by the state fisheries department, has been introduced in the house by representative W. F. Stadtlander, of Pittsburgh.

Fish commission Buller estimates the bill will add about $400,000 to the annual revenues of the department of fisheries, which is handicaped in its fish propagation work and in the prosecution of law violators by lack of funds.

The licens bill requires resident fishermen to hold a license containing their name, age, occupation and residence, which becomes void on the December 31 following the date of issue. A penalty of $25 and costs, and in default thereof a day in jail for each dollar of the fine and costs is imposed on anglers without such license.

Farmers and their families are exempted from the provisions of the act when fishing "in waters wholly within the limits of their farm or land abutting thereon," but the exemption does not apply to tenants, farm hands and servants of temporary residents of farm lands. The licenses are to be issued by the fish commissioner or county treasurers and the treasurers may charge the applicant a fee of 10 cents.

Several attempts to get a residents' fish license law enacted have met with success in the house, but failed in the senate, Commissioner Buller says fishermen's associations favor the license.

Why is "Enterprise" Scratch Feed Superior.
Because: It contains grains that your poultry can eat and digest.
Because: It contains sound old Ohio corn, cracked by us, with nothing taken out. No hard Argentine corn is used or no fancy brushed cracked corn with the good nourishing qualities removed for other products.
Because: It contains selected, local wheat that is well dried and yet not too hard to hinder digestion.
Because: It contains Pennsylvania buckwheat from an excellent crop.
Because: It contains natural white oats sound grain barley and large striped sunflower seed.
Because. It is scientifically proportioned, not just cracked corn with a scattering of other grain to give color. It is mixed with correct proportion to assure the highest food value to your poultry.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over thirty years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

Never attempt to relieve your baby with a remedy that you would use for yourself.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Favorite.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a favorite with the mothers of small children for colds, croup and whooping cough. Its pleasant taste and the prompt cures which it effects has won the good opinion of mothers everywhere. As this remedy contains no opium or other narcotic it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. feb

Conshohocken Woman Hurt Sledding.

Anna Sullivan, a young woman of Conshohocken, was severly injured in a sledding accident at Norristown one night recently when thrown from a "clipper" while descending Marshall street hill. Miss Sullivan was thrown against the curb, striking her head, a deep and painful gash was aflicted. Medical aid was summoned and she was removed to her home.

Effects of Constipation.

Constipation causes a stoppage of the sewerage system of the body. The sewerage system of the body. The poisonous refuse matter that should be carried away is retained in the system and often poisons the blood and causes numerous disorders. No one can afford to neglect his bowels. A dose of Chamberlain's Tablets will afford relief. Avoid drastic cathartics as they take too much water out of the system and their use is likely to be followed by constipation. feb

Grants Rule to Open Judgment.

Attorney D. Yeakle Miller has filed a petition for a rule to open a judgment entered several days ago on a note against the Blue Bell Lime and Stone Co. The court granted the rule and set aside the execution on the judgment.

A Good Medicine for the Grip.

George W. Waitt, South Gardiner, Me. relates his experience with the grip "I had the worst cough, cold and grip and had taken a lot of trash. of no account. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done me any good whatever. I have used one bottle of it and the cold and grip have left me." feb

Bucks County Tax Six Mills.

Bucks county's tax was increased from five to six mills at a meeting of the county commissioners.

The commissioners also assessed the women of Bucks county at $100 making the women's county tax sixty cents. There is no change in the men's tax which is $1.20 at the new rate of six mills.

Draft Farm Labor, Urges Dr. Leffmann

Dr. Henry Leffmann, well-known chemist and lecturer, would have the young men and women of the country drafted into farm work in order to bring down living cost, he asserted recently at the Long Table Luncheon of the City Club, at 313 South Broad street, Philadelphia.

A New Counterfeit.

Another counterfeit $20 Federal Reserve note is in circulation. It is described at being on the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, check letter "A" plate No. 142; D. F. Houston, Secretary of the Treasury; John Burke, Treasurer of the United States, Portrait of Cleveland. It is printed from photo-mechanical plates of amateurish workmanship, on a single sheet of paper of fair quality, without imitation of the silk fibre of the genuine The portrait of Cleveland is the most noticeable defect; lacking the light and shade effects of the steel engraving of the genuine, and many of the fine engraved lines are omitted from the face. The number is G20999881A. and this number will probably appear on all of these counterfeits as it is apparently a part of the plate from which the note is printed The figures are black instead of blue. The back of the note is dark green, and the fine lines of the lathe work are not defined.

North Wales Church Benefits.

The North Wales Methodist Episcopal church and charities benefit under the will of the late Mahlon R. Swartley, late of North Wales. The will disposes of an estate valued at $60,000. The widow Mary Swartley, and his son, Stanley S. "Peanut Jake" on Job.

"They can't keep a good man down. People said old "Jakie" had handed out his last nickel's worth of peanuts the other day. They said when I fell over unconscious and was carried away that 'Jakie' and his peanuts would now be only a memory. But, here I am, back on the job. They can't keep a good man down!"

Thus spoke "Peanut Jake" Fretz, aged peanut vender of the North Penn who was stricken with heart trouble early last week. Three generations have purchased peanuts from him as youngsters. No fete day in the North Penn section is complete without "Jake" and his peanuts.

He was unconscious when rushed to his home in an auto the other day, and his condition was regarded as critical. However, he is back at his old stand at Lansdale and is preparing for the summer season.

Hens Make a Record.

I. S. Gerhart, the North Main street merchant, Sellersville, presents a remarkable record of his five pullets which from December 1st to January 31st are credited with laying 151 eggs.

The pullets were raised by Mr. Gerhart and on December 1st, when they were exactly 5 months old, produced their first egg. In the next 60 days this record was made. The age of the pullets and the season helps to make the showing all the better. The birds are bred from a cross between Minorcas and Leghorns.

FORT WASHINGTON NEWS.

tems of Passing Interest Condensed in Short Paragraphs.

Mr. Bodenstein Passes 70th Birthday —Turnpike Work to Start Soon—Dog Owners Must Keep Pets at Home— Miscellaneous.

There seems to be numerous dogs running at large on the highways, which is a direct violation of a law that will be strictly enforced this year. If the practice continues after March 1 the owners of the animals will be summoned by the constable to appear before the justice of the peace.

Nathaniel Armstrong and Guy Lower of Newark, Del., spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller of this place.

One evening last week an enjoyable social was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Landis by the ladies of Trinity Lutheran church.

Some of the departments at Hoopeston mills are now working four and five days aweek. Saturday was pay day at the plant.

Fred Brown, who was held-up and robbed on Spring avenue Saturday, December 18th, is still suffering from the wounds inflicted upon his head by the highwayman and is still unable to return to his place of employment.

The Fort Washington Glee club tendered a delightful social to George Bodenstein at his home on Madison avenue one evening last week in honor of the latter's 70th birthday. The event was a most enjoyable one.

The large maple threes about the Stewart property on the pike are being trimmed by Jacob Yost, of Ambler.

In the wreck at Sellersville last week there were eight carloads of steel consigned to Hoopeston mills. It is expected that all will be received at the local plant this week, as the steel has been transferred from the wrecked cars and will be sent here as quickly as possible.

Manager Charles Hetzell, of the Fort Washington baseball club, is seen driving a new Dodge touring car.

Harvey Sabold and family will move to their newly purchased home, the former Taylor property, on the pike near Orchard lane, about March 1st. Mr. Sabold contemplates extensive improvements to his property in the near future.

There was a large attendance of the members at the regular monthly meeting of the Fort Washington Fire company last Thursday evening. Besides the usual business a movement was started towards bettering the financial condition of the company.

Miss Mary Ames, who was held-up on the railroad bridge on the pike last December and struck with a blackjack by the highwayman, is expected to return this week to Fort Washington from New York state where she has been staying with relatives. Miss Ames, a few days after the attack, was removed to a hospital in Philadelphia suffering from her injuries and shock. Later upon recovering sufficiently she went to the home of relatives in New York state.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association, of Whitemarsh, will be held Monday evening, Feb. 21st at 8 at the school house.

It is very likely that if the mild weather continues until March 1 the contractors on the turnpike will make plans to start early on the work of resuming the improvements contracted for by the state. The road must be completed to Springhouse this summer, and with several sections to finish at Fort Washington and to the southward and with the strip north of Lindenwold avenue, and the improvement of the road sides, gutter laying, culvert constructing and the protection from the rush of high water, there will be plenty of work to be done, even with the available help now to be secured to keep a considerable force busy until mid summer at least.

The dumping of debris and rubbish on the roads is to be condemned these days. Ususally there is enough accumulations attracted naturally without a direct effort of nearby residents to litter up the road and obstruct the flow of water to and through the gutters. Local townships are obliged to spend large sums annually to undo work that thoughtless persons compel the expenditure of public funds that might otherwise better be employed in constructive road work.

Elmer A. Grubb on Monday morning attended the Norristown court session.

Clarence Hostetter, of this place, spent the week-end in Reading.

Mrs. Sarah Winterbottom has been quite ill.

Edwin F. Roberts, local quarryman, has purchased several additional horses.

The Fort Washington Fire company has launched a compaign to purchase a dependable chasis for the motor machine. The old Pierce-Arrow truck, which converted chassis, has not been satisfactory, having not been orignially constructed for the purpose of a fire truck.

The Fort Washington branch of the Needlework Guild will hold an all-day sewing meeting at the home of Mrs. Haines on Feb. 24.

BARREN HILL.

Joseph Kerper reports that Sunday, Feb. 13th, was the first Sunday in 13 years that they did not have visitors at their home.

Edna Rase, of Philadelphia, spent Sunday at the home of her uncle, Abraham Moyer.

After a week's illness with grip James Mitchell was able to return to his place of employment at the Andorra nursery.

Milton Borse, of Lansdale, spent Sunday with his son, Percy, and family.

Charles Rubenstein, a student at the National Farm school, was a week-end visitor at the Malkin home.

The parents of Charles Wagner left Monday morning for California. They were accompanied by a son and his wife.

In closing the door of a trolley freight car Israel Wood caught his hand in the door, tearing the nail from one finger and a large piece of flesh from another.

While the Barren Hill Fire Co. was returning from a fire one of the members, Robert McKinzy, jumped from the truck while it was running. He fell, breaking his arm in two places

While returning from one of the local stores, Mrs. Levi Kerper fell and broke her arm. Mrs. Kerper has been unfortunate, as this is the second time by falling she has sustained injuries. The other time she broke her wrist.

George S. Rapine, of Germantown avenue, has been quite ill the past few days with a cold.

Harry Rambo and family, who have been living on the late Henry Helling's farm, have moved to Roxborough.

Mrs. Eugene Tarbutton, who has been ill for some time, will be taken to a Philadelphia hospital for further treatment.

William Diamond, of Germantown, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Diamond.

Miss Bertha Staley spent Sunday in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Cole, of Camden, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ida Weiser.

Miss Olga Puhl spent Saturday evening in Norristown.

Miss Susan Maguire attended the funeral of her brother-in-law, William Mancill, at Spring Mill, Monday afternoon.

Mrs. William Dager, whose remains were intered in Barren Hill cemetery Friday afternoon, was a resident of this town a few years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Cassel son, of Millburn, spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Kerper, mother of Mrs. Cassel.

Miss Famous, organist at St. Peter's church, was a dinner guest of the Diamond family.

Ira T. Astle, one of the clerks at the Chestnut Hill post office, underwent his annual examination at that office last week.

Mr. and Mrs. McKege of Clifton Heights, were week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schnell, of Marble Hall.

Mrs. Charles Oberle is ill.

Harold McKeown is confined to his home with a severe cold.

Mrs. Robert Elfreth visited her sister, Mrs. Stoaks, in Philadelphia, Monday.

Mrs. Walter Hansell was a manayunk visitor.

SPRINGHOUSE.

Robert Kearney moved from one of Felix Hanlon's properties, on the Brushtown road, the past week.

Mrs. Matthew Park, of Germantown spent Friday with her sister, Mrs. Louis Finley.

Dr. William Cowell, who has been confined to his bed with illness is able to be about his room.

Eugene Geuther is on the sick list.

Miss Bessie Radcliff, of Chestnut Hill, was calling on local friends at this place on Monday.

Mrs. Christine Obenland spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Arthur Hallwig, at Fortuna.

Walter Bright, Jr., who has been ill, is able to be out again.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Diodato had the misfortune to break her arm by falling from a chair on Wednesday.

Julius H. Rempp contemplates the erection, in the early spring, of a house on the ground adjoining the property of Charles W. Fleck.

W. R. Hillsworth will remove from the Upton property on April 1. Mr. Upton will remove from Philadelphia and occupy the property vacated by Mr. Hillsworth.

B. F. Danehower, agent, has sold the double house of Walter Hallowell, formerly the Odd Fellows' Hall to Harry Williams, at private figures. Possession will be given April 1.

COLD POINT AND PLYMOUTH.

Cold Point young ladies are receiving instructions in the new dances, and an interesting class meets weekly at Norristown.

Miss Mary Harris, of Plymouth Meeting, who recently underwent an operation at the Montgomery hospital, Norristown, is considerably improved and has returned to the Rosemont.

Barney McCardle, who is employed on the packing floor at the American Magnesia company, Plymouth Meeting has been ill with congestion of the lungs.

The spare family moved Monday from the former Chick estate property, Plymouth Meeting to Barren Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Clayton Rex, of Maple Glen, spent Sunday in Hickorytown with the latter's father, Milton R. Marple.

Mrs. Albert Wernle has returned to her home in upper Plymouth after a stay with her mother in Atlantic City.

The Sewing Circle, of the Cold Point grange, will hold a cake sale in the Borough Market, Norristown, on Feb. 25.

The Cold Point grange, owners of the Hickorytown hotel property, have commenced work in remodeling the stone stable and sheds into a hall for meeting purposes. A cement floor will be put in. When completed, it is likely the dwelling portion of the property will be disposed of.

The regular monthly meeting of the "Whitemarsh League of Women Voters" will be held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Ambler, Plymouth Meeting, this Thursday at 2.30 o'clock.

The Junior Alumni of Plymouth was entertained at the home of Austin Sinclair on Feb. 14th. The house was decorated with hearts. A valentine contest, and other games in which hearts predominated were used. After refreshments, which were in the form of hearts, and valentines, the time was spent in dancing.

Orlando and Walter Rex, of Hickorytown, have been ill.

The top of the new bridge at the magnesia works is being put on. The creek has been bordered with concrete sides for quite a distance on each side of the bridge.

HORSHAM AND UPPER DUBLIN.

Mrs. Kneezle, of Dresher, is still on the sick list.

William Crites, of Dresher, is captain of the Boy Scouts, numbering 12, with the prospects of more joining the troop in the near future.

Mrs. Thomas Lynch and daughter, Reita and Catherine, of Ambler, spent Sunday at the home of George Nagle in Jarrettown.

Richard Wiley, Clarence and William Stout, of Jarrettown spent Saturday evening in the city.

George W. Freas, of Horsham, has purchased a 6-cylinder Buick car.

Mrs. John Robinson, of Dresher, is ill with scarlet fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gouak, of Horsham, entertained relatives and friends on Sunday.

Mrs. James Ramsey, of Horsham, spent Friday in Philadelphia, and selected new hymn books for the Horsham Sunday school.

Orville Shugard, of Horsham, has been ill with measles.

Mrs. Joseph M. Stackhouse, of Ambler, visited her brother, J. W. Freas, in Horsham on Tuesday.

A motor party of two men stopped at H. S. Nash's over Monday night enroute from Florida to their home in Morrisville, upper New York state. Their wives who accompanied them, had grown weary of the motor ride and had gone on ahead by train. The gentlemen stated that conditions through the south are at a stand-still, the only white mechanics in demand apparently being carpenters.

James Harrar, of near Hallowell, is hauling from Philadelphia, a quantity of manure and each week, when delivering hay in the city he brings back by motor truck a large load of manure. Mr. Harrar has a prolific farm and believes in the old fashioned fertilization. which doubtless is largely responsible for the good yields of corn and other crops produced on this well managed Bucks county farm.

William Brook, of the K. G. E. home, Davis Grove, has been spending three days visiting in Philadelphia.

Harry Emmerich and Frank Erwin, of Philadelphia, members of the board of managers of the K. G. E. home, Davis Grove, visited the institution on Sunday, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Erwin and son Franklin and a representative of King David castle.

S. S. Haggerty, of near Lansdale, formerly of Horsham, purchased a pair of fine horses at the combination sale at Hartville recently.

Mrs. J. M. Megargee and Mrs. Walter Kneezle, of Hallowell, spent Monday in Doylestown.

Russell Megargee, of Hallowell, who will soon remove to the Ellwood Paul farm, near Welsh road, Horsham, has purchased a pair of fine black horses from B. F. Hobensack.

Horsham farmers are complaining of the difficulty of selling both potatoes and hay. It doesn't seem to be so much a question of price, as our Horsham farmers ares ufficiently intelligent to know that a period of lower prices has arrived, but the demand, due to dull times in the manufacturing centres of Philadelphia, is not apparent as it was when busy times were experienced.

Miss Mary Bradfield, of Horsham, has been visiting friends at Chain Bridge, Pa.

Eugene Branin and family, of Chester county, have moved into Joseph Wood's tenant house, near Babylon. The moving was done by Charles W. Gerhart's Ambler motor truck service.

Admits He "Shot Up" School at Hatfield.

Albert Thiemich 18, of Lansdale, pleaded guilty in Norristown court to "shooting up" a school house in Hatfield township. He said that he and a younger brother and George Reed, 15 fired into the school house after they had raised a window. He said Reed hit the face of the clock and he sent a bullet into a teacher's desk. It was on a Sunday and school was not in session. He said he wouldn't have done it only it was suggested by the younger boy.

Reed, who is a Philadelphian, made denial. He said that the three took turns shooting into the school room with Thiemich's 22-callbre rifle, and that it was Thiemich whose bullet hit the lock.

Thiemich was also charged with damaging school property with explosives and with assault and battery upon Olive Kulp, the teacher, but these charges were not pressed. The teacher told of finding nine loaded rifle cartridges in the school coal and also shot gun shells. She said that once when she started a fire in the school stove there was an explosion and flare of flame that injured her eyes and burned her face and hair.

Judge Swartz deferred sentence until Saturday.

Reed's home is 5520 Locust street, Philadelphia. He was visiting at the time of the shooting.

Lansdale Bank Fortifies Vault.

Thoroughly alarmed by the recent series of bank robberies, the directors of the Forst National bank, of Lansdale, have erected an iron cage—or fort—over the safety vault at the bank and the fort will be equipped as a small-sized arsenal. An ex-service man has been engaged to occupy the point of vantage and he is armed with a magazine rifle and other weapons. The fort is the first of its kind to be established in a business place in the North Penn section.

Plan 12-Room High School Addition.

At the meeting of the Conshohocken school board it was decided to ask for costs on the erection of a twelve-room addition to the high school. The Conshohocken schools are greatly over crowded, necessitating the placing of two primary grades on half time and crowding rooms, making it impossible to provide each child with a desk; long tables and benches are used, the children being grouped around them. The high school is so crowded that the laboratory and auditorium are now used as class rooms. The admission of new pupils will serve to add to the "jam."

Find Thief at Work.

When Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reiff, late one night recently, returned to their home on Montgomery avenue, East Norriton township, they found a light in the rear of the abode. Calling a neighbor, Lewis Eastman, they made an investigation with the result that conditions in and about the Reiff home indicated the presence of an intruder, who evidently beat a hasty retreat when he heard the Reiff's coming home.

The interior of the house was upset by the thief, who abandoned a quantity of silverware that had been gathered together with other articles of value. Entrance had been effected by means of a skeleton key.

HAVE YOU MADE A WILL?
Do you realize that if you do not express by will your intentions as to the disposition of your property it may be disposed of very differently from the way you would wish? Unless a will is made, the law can take no account of the special personal needs of any heir.
When you make your will efficient and economical management of your estate - no matter what its size - is insured by appointing this company as executor or trnstee. Or co-executor if you prefer.
We will scrupulously guard the interests of your heirs, and will give to your estate the benefit of absolute fidelity, impartiality, careful attention to details and legal experience in carrying out the provisions of your will.
Our officers will be glad to correspond with you regarding any trust or banking business; and if you desire to make or change a will, our solicitor will gladly give his services free of charge when this company is named executor or co-executor.

HOW TO GET MORE EGGS
Your hens will lay MORE eggs and bigger eggs if you will feed them the new egg producing feed manufactured by The Quaker Oats Co. This feed is not an experiment—it has been tested and positively will make your hens lay as you never expected they would.
FUL-O-PEP DRY MASH
FUL-O-PEP DRY MASH is the raw material from which eggs are made; all it requires is the hen's factory to put it into egg form.
Come to our store and let us tell you why this is the best egg producing feed ever offered poultry keepers.
